Child Safety is High Priority for Local Law Firm

CofmanTownsley partners with Safe Kids St. Louis to distribute complimentary safety kits during community safety event

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 28, 2008—St. Louis-based law firm CofmanTownsley will be distributing child safety kits during the Car and Home Safety Event at the Babies “R” US store in St. Louis on Saturday, June 7.

“Working in personal injury law, we hear stories of terrible yet preventable accidents every day,” said Stuart Cofman, partner at CofmanTownsley. “Our hope in providing these safety kits is to focus on preventing serious and life-threatening accidents from happening by equipping children, parents, and families in our community with the important information and tools they need.”

The complimentary kits include:

- A 24-page safety brochure that highlights basic tips for parents and families about baby safety, child passengers, pedestrians, bicycles and helmets, home safety, and poison prevention.
- Two reflective stickers for backpacks or bicycles
- Two child identification stickers to apply inside bicycle helmets or on car seats
- A bathwater temperature gauge
- An emergency contacts magnet with a non-erasable write-on surface
- A poison control wallet card and key tag
- A safety seat contact card and key tag
- A child-check hang tag that can be attached to a rearview mirror

“Safe Kids St. Louis is delighted to have partners such as Cofman Townsley to help support our efforts to raise community awareness of childhood safety and promote programs that help reduce injury,” said Cathy Hogan, Coordinator, Safe Kids St. Louis.
